Annual Report 2016-17

Introduction:

Mahatma Gandhi was a versatile personality. He persuaded the society the importance of hardship. While giving the message of spinning wheel he tells the importance of endeavor. The spinning wheel of Gandhiji is broader than its circumference. The message of the spinning wheel is simplicity, service of humanity, the lifestyle which will not trouble others and to establish the close relationship between rich and poor; Capital and labour, king and the beggar. Mahatma Gandhi study centre runs various programmes in Jalna city and district since last twelve years so that Gandhiji's message of spinning wheel reaches to the every element of society.

Annual Planning Committee meeting:

Mahatma Gandhi study centre organized various programmes in Jalna district with the purpose of spreading his thoughts. The executive committee and eminent people who work in various sectors held the annual planning meeting in the office of Mahatma Gandhi study centre on 23 August, 2016 at 4:00 pm. World non-violence day and 9th state level elocution competition during Gandhi week celebration:

Man has exploited natural resources indiscriminately for material development in the last century. This led to the imbalance of entire environment including man himself. So we neglected the perpetual development but this led to huge growth in the national income by this new standard of growth. This brought prosperity with financial inequality. This brought degeneration of India's rich heritage based on high morality. This created rift in all inclusive discerning thought. It gave rise to the challenges of murder, rapes and immorality and imbalance of environment. The young generation should understand these challenges and for the regeneration of wise, thoughtful and moral society Gandhi Study centre organized 9th state level elocution competition on the day of Mahatma Gandhiji's birth anniversary, the world non-violence day.

Every year the centre organizes this competition on the day of Gandhiji's birth anniversary and world non-violence day. 'Gandhiji's thoughts for society' and 'new standard for development: Gandhiji's eternal development' were the topics of this year's elocution competition. The students who came first, second and third were felicitated with certificates, memento and a cash prize of Rs. Five thousand, three thousand and one thousand respectively.

In the afternoon session Journalist and environments, Mr. Sopan Joshi addressed the participants on environment and Gandhian ideas. Today's development is without considering the ecology and environment so it is not perennial development, he said. The secretary of the society Mr. Shriniwasji Bhakkad, Principal of the college Dr. Ramesh Agrawal and Vice-principal Dr. S.K. Popalghat were present for the address.

On Saturday (14) Mrs. Prerana Desai an economist from Mumbai guided the participants. She told that commonest among the common man feels satisfaction in his eyes should be the decision of the government. She further told that decentralization of decision making should happen at all the levels. If only one person is taking all the decisions then its dictatorship.

On Sunday (15) Mr. Prashant Nagose, former organizer of Rashtriya Yuva Sanghatan interacted with the participants of the camp. He told in his address that politics is in the control of only a few families in our country. You don't see seeds of democracy anywhere. The decision of selection for election is not in the hands of people but the chairman of the political parties. So this politics is controlled by some families. He further mentioned that Loknayak Jayprakash Narayan shouted the slogan of complete revolution. Youth of the nation should understand that and should show their strength through the power of their vote. Only the politics of everybody will bring the change he mentioned.

Valedictory function took place on Monday (16) at 11:00 am in the presence of senior socialist thinker and journalist Mr. Pannalal Surana.
